FEAR VIOLENCE IN GERMANY

Powerful Attack On Depression Planned

LEADERS OF BUSINESS TO HOLD PARLEY

President Hoover Soon to Name Date for Conference at White House
EXECUTIVE IS PLEASED
Entire Program Outlined By President Will Be Carried Out at Meet

WASHINGTON, Aug. 13.—(UP)—The "powerful attack" against the depression on all fronts which President Hoover forecast in his acceptance speech is about to begin.
A call for a general conference of nation-wide business and industrial committees is being prepared at the White House. The date is to be announced shortly.
The purpose is to unify the reconstruction program. Federal resources and private initiative are to be co-ordinated.
President Hoover has made it plain that the exigencies of the presidential campaign and the heated argument over prohibition will not sidetrack his one big objective—to stimulate business.
He has declared his personal view that the 18th amendment should be changed so that, with the saloon forbidden, states shall resume control of the liquor problem. Dries, who expected him to go no further than to recommend submission of the question, are slow to comment.
A record breaking flood of congratulatory telegrams at the White House has cheered Mr. Hoover.

SPRINGFIELD, Ill., Aug. 13.—(UP)—Resentment against the new union coal miners wage scale flared at Belleville today when a general strike order was called for the district by a workers' mass meeting.
About 2200 workers are affected by the strike order, which is effective Monday. The group planned to seek a state convention to consider recalling district officers and deposing members of the wage scale committee.

DRY LAWS ARE DEFENDED BY W. C. T. U. CHIEF

Mrs. Ella Boole Opens Convention With Attack on Proposed Changes

SEATTLE, Aug. 13.—(UP)—With the speech of their leader, Mrs. Ella Alexander Boole, as a rousing keynote, delegates to the 58th national convention of the Woman's Christian Temperance Union today opened their sessions, determined to set up effective machinery for the retention of prohibition.
Mrs. Boole, speaking with all the fervor that once motivated many of the delegates in their fight against saloons, last night defended prohibition as having outlawed the liquor traffic.
"We believe that prohibition is still the best method of dealing with liquor," she declared. "Violations of the law, and not the law caused conditions which have stirred complaint. These conditions will not be changed by any law that makes it easier to obtain any kind of liquor," she asserted.

Golden had nearly 50 witnesses to produce. In the first day of testimony taking he had presented evidence to the jury of six men and six women that Egan was a close friend of Albert Tinnin, ex-convict and co-defendant in the trial.

LANCASTER IN ADDRESS TODAY BEFORE JURORS

Records Several Changes in Testimony Given From Stand Recently

COURTROOM, MIAMI, Fla., Aug. 13.—(UP)—Capt. William N. Lancaster, British airman, addressed the jury today and placed in the records several changes in his testimony in his trial on a charge of first degree murder in the fatal shooting of Haden Clarke.

He added to his story of the "suicide notes" he admitted forging with Clarke's name with the statement that he had admitted to copy Clarke's signature from a letter he received from the young journalist who supplanted him in the affections of Mrs. Jessie M. Keith-Miller, his former lover and flying partner.

He stated he had not thought of having done this until after he left the stand following his last testimony, adding that he understood from Judge Atkinson that he was permitted to correct his statement.

Clarke was shot through the head early on the morning of April 21 in the sleeping porch he occupied with Lancaster and on the morning following Lancaster's arrival from St. Louis where he had learned that Clarke and Mrs. Keith-Miller intended to marry.

Trial To Be Resumed On Monday Noon

Roosevelt to Withhold His Decision in Case Until Court Rules

ALBANY, N. Y., Aug. 13.—(UP)—Prospects of a bitter legal battle today overshadowed all developments in the two sessions of the ouster hearing against Mayor James J. Walker with Gov. Franklin D. Roosevelt accepting service of a writ delaying his decision until after Friday.

The hearing was adjourned yesterday until 1:30 p. m. Monday.

The writ, which may be the entering wedge in lengthy court proceedings, challenges the governor's power to remove Walker. Specifically it directs the governor to show cause next Friday why a writ prohibiting the hearing and removal of Walker should not be issued.

The show cause order is returnable before Supreme Court Justice Ellis J. Staley. Roosevelt informed Supreme Court Justice Harold J. Hinnman, who issued the writ, that he would not hand down any decision until after Friday. Thereafter, however, the governor let it be known that legal entanglements would delay his decision.

CUBS ADMIT LOANS, DENY RACE WAGERS

ST. LOUIS, Mo., Aug. 13.—(UP)—Members of the Chicago Cubs, questioned by Judge K. M. Landis, baseball commissioner, denied today they had gambled on race horses.

Four members told Judge Landis that they had loaned Rogers Hornsby, deposited manager, a total of more than $5000 which Hornsby claimed he needed to pay his income tax.

Hornsby, also questioned by the commissioner, admitted he had borrowed the money, but denied he had used it for gambling.

"Other Hoover" Sits In Aisle To Hear Speech

WASHINGTON, Aug. 13.—(UP)—The "other Hoover" sat on the aisle steps and heard President Hoover deliver his acceptance speech. Like Hoover, for 42 years a White House major domo, didn't have a seat for the notification ceremonies, but he wanted to hear the ninth president he has worked for deliver the big speech of his reelection campaign.
Like is known to scores of leading citizens of the land. As chief usher he makes all the White House guests feel at home, tips them off as to what to wear and how to act. Many a frightened lady, invited as a house guest for the first time, has been saved from embarrassing mistakes by Ike's kindly and tactful thoughtfulness.

ELEVEN CUBAN REFUGEES ARE UNDER ARREST

MIAMI, Fla., Aug. 13.—(UP)—Eleven Cuban political refugees were taken to county jail here today by U. S. customs inspectors after the fugitives halted their 50-foot single-masted auxiliary schooner off an island to ask fishermen for fresh water.

The Cubans said they had plenty of food but had been without water 18 hours. Their craft was leaking and they had been forced to bail water since leaving Cuba Monday.

Spokesman for the group said they escaped from Cuba after the machine gun slaying of Miguel Calvo, chief of secret police and two aides, and the mob killing of Garcia Sierra several weeks ago.

They had boarded the boat at Calbarren after telling police they were going fishing. Blown off their course by rain and storms, they landed on Salt Key in the Bahamas before finally setting out for Miami where they decided to appeal to police.

They said friends here were awaiting them.

The group was led by Pedro

HINDENBURG TURNS DOWN HITLER PLEA

TROOPS ARE MASSING

Nazi Brown Shirts Gathering in Berlin Suburbs and Drilling Each Day

By JAMES WHARTON
(Copyright, 1932, by United Press)
BERLIN, Aug. 13.—(UP)—With a large peace time army at his call, Adolf Hitler, Nazi leader, today placed his demands for power personally before President Paul von Hindenburg of Germany.

He failed to achieve his aim of becoming Chancellor of the Reich. As a result of today's conference with the aged field marshal, Hitler will remain outside the cabinet. Franz von Papen will continue as chancellor.

Hitler's brown shirted storm troops are massing and drilling 20,000 strong in Berlin and vicinity.

They have been reported mobilizing as a threat to help their colorful leader gain the power he has sought. There has been conflicting reports on the truth of the reports.

I went out into the outskirts of Berlin, the small towns nearby, into corner saloons, into side streets, into some of the larger towns within quick marching distance of Six hundred barrels of oil stored in the engine room exploded as fire, which apparently started in one of the lower holds, swept the boat.

Firemen George Russo and Herbert French, members of the crews aboard the fireboats Ajax and Sullivan were removed to hospitals for treatment. They received lacerations and severe burns. None of the crew was injured.

Stick To The Issues; Don't Let The Politicians Fool You

The political campaign very apparently is in full swing in Orange county. We have known the plan of the political "machine's" campaign for quite a number of days. And it was this: They knew that there was no possibility of arguing the actual questions at issue; that the people of this county are determined to have governmental expenses reduced, and that The Register has been leading for that. They knew that the people are determined that their business shall not be conducted in secret, and they knew that The Register has been leading in that.

They knew that the vast majority of the people of Orange county want law enforcement and prohibition conditions to prevail, and they knew The Register has been standing for that. They knew that friends were being favored at the taxpayers' expense, and that The Register was opposed to it, and had been exposing it.

And so they agreed that the only thing they could do was to abuse The Register and misrepresent its publisher, and this is their political program,—the one string upon which they plan to play. We desire to say in response to that, that we are not going to evade the issue and enter into any personal defense or defense of The Register. It doesn't need it.

No Secret Meetings

Every intelligent person knows that The Register is not holding secret meetings with the officials of the city of Santa Ana, or any other officials. We have never been in a "huddle" with members of the city council, or any group of officials. They know it. We never have had a secret meeting with any official, either of the city or county, since we came here. We have never been in any group where there was more than one member of the city council present, but that there were other people present at the same time, except once when two of them came up together to condemn an editorial we had written.

Our office is open, and there is no secret about it. The poor and the rich, men in office, and those who are out of office come, and they are welcome to come, and they are always seen. And whether this would be true or not, the facts remain that the conduct of public business by secret "huddles" is against the public's interest. And if The Register or its publisher did it, it should be condemned just as heartily as if anybody else did it, and these assertions by our opponents are not to condemn it, but to excuse it and to condemn The Register for hypocrisy. They try to excuse the machinations of the politicians, and in the language of the small boy say: "You're another."

Slate To Put Over

The truth is that the political "gang" in this county has a slate to put over, and they are desperate to put it over. That slate has not been selected by the prohibition Board of Strategy. You very rarely, and then under terrible protest, find the political gang for any prohibition candidates.

The Board of Strategy, from the state down to the smallest town, is opposed to the candidate that the "gang" and their newspapers are standing for for United States Senator. There may be a division between the prohibition people as to whether to support Shuler or Crail. But there is no division over the question that the candidate of the political crowd stands against the prohibition amendment. He voted for the beer bill in Congress, and the prohibitionists are opposed to him. The same is true in respect to the candidacy for Congress.

The political gang is opposed to the candidate of the Board of Strategy. The political candidates are nearly always opposed to the Board of Strategy, and the prohibition forces, and the prohibition forces have had to fight them in their program.

The political sheet published by the mouthpiece of the politicians, the weekly edition of an Anaheim paper, put out with the express purpose to abuse The Register and its publisher, refused the advertisement of the "dry" candidate on the Democratic ticket for Congress, and took a tremendously large advertisement of the liquor candidate for Congress on the Democratic ticket. The liquor man's money was good enough for them, but an upright, outstanding, clean young attorney of this city couldn't get his advertisement in, although he was personally attacked by the liquor candidate from the outside. But this local candidate was "dry," and make no mistake, the political crowd is not for the "drys."

Sometime ago in this city, the politicians of the county had a meeting to honor a man who had repeatedly attacked The Register because of its "dry" position, in the Rolph campaign, and this man had just received a reward of a public appointment from Governor Rolph.

"Wets" Are Favored

During the campaign two years ago, this same group was in favor of the candidates who were opposed by the prohibitionists, under the leadership of the Law Enforcement League. And let a man come out pronouncedly, strongly, and stand for the 18th amendment, for its enforcement, and really mean business, and the political "machine" is through with him. We are not saying that they would not support a candidate who was "dry," if forced to do it. But it does appear they only do it under protest, and then for some minor office.

The misrepresentation of everyone who stands "dry" by these organs is becoming perfectly clear. On Thursday night, this political mouthpiece for this gang in his Anaheim paper declared "Chester Kline of San Jacinto, a candidate for representative from the 19th Congressional district, had offered a prospective candidate the privilege of appointing Orange county postmasters. In return for the privilege the man approached was to give his support to Kline." This was stated, and then argued that The Register must have had some promise, because it was supporting Kline. The Register, up to this hour, has never said one solitary word for Mr. Kline. But we want to denounce that statement, and to declare that it is positively untrue. We do not believe that Mr. Kline ever made any such proposition to any man in Orange county.

Mouthpiece Defied

We openly defy this mouthpiece of the political crowd, or the political bunch themselves, to produce any man who was a prospective candidate for Congress, or any other man, to whom Mr. Kline ever made such a proposition. We don't say that we know that he didn't do it, but we do say we know the type and character of the campaign which this crowd is conducting. And we believe that they are doing this simply to undermine an upright man, whom many of the "dry" forces of the district are out fighting for.

We want to have that man meet Mr. Kline face to face and we want to have the facts presented to the people of this county. We are entitled to know them. If Mr. Kline has been doing this kind of thing in order to get support, the people of the county should know it, and if he is being lied about and misrepresented, they should know that.

We haven't anything to conceal concerning it, and we haven't any promises out to Mr. Kline, or to any other man, that would interfere with knowing the facts. But this is typical of their campaign.

Mr. Hadaller in a debate the other evening, declared that a malt representative told him that The Register had refused a $5000 advertising contract. This was said publicly in the debate. And Mr. Hadaller was big enough to say that The Register's policy was against running such malt advertising. And yet every one of these papers of this "machine" have been accepting this malt advertising. They made Mr. Hadaller's argument the better argument, in the way they wrote it up, and not one of them gave this statement of fact, to which the publisher and The Register certainly were entitled.

And the local paper in the city, where the meeting was held, was the worst offender.

Assaulted Editorially

A few months ago, when The Register was coming out and furnishing the people of the county with facts indicating the

MAN MAY BE ARRESTED DRIVER FOR SPEEDING

Seven persons were injured, several seriously as the result of three spectacular automobile crashes in the county late yesterday.

One man was arrested and is being held for officers in the county hospital as the result of one of the accidents.

While Ben Craig, member of the California highway patrol was chasing Raymond Hapes, 18, of Garden Grove yesterday afternoon to arrest him for speeding, the Hapes car crashed into a truck driven by Louis Ayana, Garden Grove.

Hapes suffered cuts and bruises, Pedro Ayana, 11, son of Louis Ayana, a passenger on the truck at the time was probably fatally injured, receiving a fracture of the skull and a broken shoulder and Louis Ayana was seriously cut and bruised.

Car Speeding
All three were taken to the county hospital, and Hapes is being held under arrest. Officer Craig reported the Hapes car was traveling at 70 miles an hour just before the accident.

Three persons were injured at Brea yesterday afternoon at 4 o'clock when a motorcycle, being ridden by Walter H. Williams, 20, of Placentia and his sister, collided headon with a car driven by Roy F. Asher, of 866 North Potomac street, Brea.

Williams suffered a broken leg and cuts and bruises and his sister was seriously cut in the throat. Mrs. Asher was cut and bruised, not seriously.

Car Turns Over
The accident occurred when the motorcycle attempted to pass another car and met the Asher car, travelling from the opposite direction.

Thomas Shibamura, 30, Costa Mesa resident, is in the Orange County hospital suffering from cuts and bruises received when he lost control of his car and it turned over, pinning him underneath.

The overturned car was found at 2 a. m. today by passing motorists, who discovered Shibamura underneath and took him to the hospital. His condition is not believed to be serious.

DOWNING IN RADIO ADDRESS CONTRASTS STAND OF SELF AND OPPONENT ON OIL BILL

Asserting that the foundation of his platform in the race for nomination for the state senate is "to represent the people and not special interests," and calling attention to the fact that his opponent supported the Sharkey Oil bill which was later overwhelmingly defeated by the vote of the people, City Attorney Clyde Downing made an address last night over radio station KREG. He said in part:

"I am seeking your support to represent this, the thirty-fifth senatorial district, in the state senate. My opponent is a distinguished citizen of this county, president of one of the leading banking institutions of the city of Orange. In my judgment, is a beneficiary of and is now supported by the interest in control of the political power of Orange county for the past 20 years, and has represented this district in the state senate for the immediate past four years. He likewise is seeking your support for re-nomination and reelection of his present position.

"It is my understanding that my opponent justifies his claim for reelection upon his record. If my opponent's attitude as determined by his record and my position as determined by my attitude upon legislative matters affecting this district are identical, there would be no justification for my candidacy. However, I earnestly contend and will show you that there is a clear and distinct line of demarcation between my opponent and myself.

Represent the People
"The foundation and chief cornerstones of my platform for state senate is 'To represent the people, not special interests.' It is my job to convince the voters of this district that mere words do not form the foundation of my platform, but that it really controls and directs my thoughts and actions for the welfare of the masses. It is not my implication that my opponent consciously represents and adheres to the will and whim of special interests. However, in view of the fact that he is so hedged in by 'Big Business', is associated with and directly connected with the leading financial interests of our county, and deals with matters affecting the people in the abstract rather than in the concrete, I do contend he is not attuned with and does not appreciate the economic conditions of the great majority of the people, and is not conscious of such slant that he takes upon public affairs. I know what it means to be in the 'Slough of Despond,' and to sit helplessly and see one's competence melt away—not because of poor judgment, but the result of the present economic cataclysm, superinduced by high taxes and extravagance in operation of government.

"Being of a legal turn of mind, my conception of the contest over the senatorship of this district resolves itself into a situation where you voters sit as both judge and jury; your verdict is final and conclusive, and my opponent and I are advocates before you. You are entitled to know the record of my opponent and my claims for your support, and after full representation of both sides, those who go to the polls on August 30, will render the verdict.

Opponent's Record
"In order to be fair and impartial, I will first discuss a part of the record of my opponent, which record he stands on as a basis for re-election. An examination of the Senate Journal of the last session of the state legislature discloses that out of several hundred bills signed by the governor, the following were bills designated as my opponent's measures, to-wit:

1.—Senate Bill No. 416, Standardization of Concrete Pipe.
2.—Senate Bill No. 698, Taxation of Boats and Vessels.
3.—Senate Bill No. 531, Claim of W. P. Britain against the State of California.
4.—Senate Bill No. 171—Prohibiting Net Fishing in Orange county.
5.—Senate Bill No. 415—Claim of Southern Pacific Company against State of California.
6.—Senate Bill No. 48—Highway Committee Bill, providing for additional state highways, classifying them as secondary.

"I was unable to ascertain what bills were introduced by my opponent which failed of enactment. During the last session of the legislature Senate Bill No. 362, entitled 'An Act to Prohibit and prevent waste of crude petroleum, oil in the state of California and defining said waste and in that behalf creating an oil conservation commission, etc.' (commonly known as the Sharkey Oil Control bill) was passed by both branches of the California state legislature and signed by Governor Rolph, Jr.

"The opponents of the Sharkey bill, through a petition signed by about 200,000 registered voters, were successful in getting said Sharkey bill submitted to the people for ratification or rejection, and on May 3, 1931, the people of the state of California overwhelmingly voted against said Sharkey bill, Orange county piling up a vote of more than four to one against said bill. A very active campaign was waged by the proponents and opponents of said Sharkey bill.

Led Fight in County
"Feeling that this bill was turning over to a few special interests one of the greatest natural resources of this state, to-wit, petroleum oil, without solicitation on my part I accepted the chairmanship of the campaign in Orange county against the ratification of

Politically Speaking

SACRAMENTO, Cal., Aug. 13.—(UP)—Presidential politics has taken a back seat in California until after the state primary election August 30.

Just now chief interest seems to center in the campaigns for party nominations for United States senator, a seat now occupied by Samuel M. Shortridge of San Francisco.

William Gibbs McAdoo, wartime secretary of the treasury, and Justus S. Wardell, head of the Roosevelt ticket in the May primary campaign, are fighting it out for the Democratic nomination in as merry a battle as California has seen in many moons.

McAdoo-Wardell
Both have statewide organizations already formed. McAdoo, who emerged from the Democratic national convention as a sort of hero because he swung California and Texas to the support of Roosevelt at the psychological moment, is making his trips about the state in his own airplane.

Wardell has already embarked upon a speaking tour of the state that will carry him through Southern California and into the San Joaquin and Sacramento valleys.

On August 17 he will be the guest at a luncheon reception at the Palace hotel, San Francisco, by women voters of the party.

G. O. P. Contest
On the other side of the fence, the Republican free-for-all is growing warmer. Senator Shortridge and State Senator Tallant Tubbs have been in Los Angeles and Southern California during the first days of the Olympic Games, while Congressman Joe Crail has been in Northern California. Tubbs is openly wet, Shortridge slightly moist, and Crail is dry. The Rev. Robert P. Shuler of Los Angeles is attempting to cut into the dry vote, while Leo Youngworth, former Shrine executive, is a wet.

Plans for the Hoover-Garner campaign are being mapped by Louis R. Mayer, who is slated as the new state chairman of the Republican committee, succeeding Marshal Hale of San Francisco, and Mark L. Requa, Republican national committeeman. Both have just concluded a series of conferences with Southern California leaders.

Political Gossip
Roland A. Vandegrift, state director of finance, trained his guns on the initiative to transfer school costs from counties to the state. . . . It would saddle an additional biennial burden of $100,000,000 onto the state, he declared. . . . And added: "An ad valorem tax on all property would be inevitable."

Governor Rolph cut his own salary by $125.50 a month as his first official act in the new Los Angeles state building. . . . The money went into the state's general fund. . . . David Morgan, once executive officer in the state department of agriculture, has "retired" from state service.

It's rumored that W. H. Perkins, former Sacramento newspaperman, will be appointed as his successor. . . . It is still reported that State Senator Arthur H. Breed of Oakland is being groomed as a candidate for lieutenant governor when Frank P. Merriam runs for governor against James Rolph Jr. . . . Breed continues to deny the report.

CENTER AT LA HABRA FAVORS GAS TAX SPLIT

Having previously gone on record as favoring the reduction of 30 cents on the road tax for Orange county, the La Habra farm center last night voted to endorse the action of the farm bureau in their request to the supervisors for 32-1-2 per cent of the gas tax money to be turned back to the cities for road maintenance.

It was also voted at this meeting to ask that the farm bureau take up the matter of salaries of state and county officials and it was suggested that a resolution be prepared by the farm bureau and sent to the various farm centers for their adoption along this line.

Roland D. Flaherty, of the farm bureau was present and spoke at length concerning the 40 cent road tax and the proposed reduction. Flaherty produced the figures to show that the road maintenance could be carried on in the county with the gas tax and the smaller road tax. Figures of the 1932-33 budget as prepared by the supervisors were used and Supervisor William Schumacher was present to explain further the reasons for the various items on the budget.

Flaherty said that the county farm bureau wished the reduction in the tax, a reduction in expenditures to merely maintenance of the roads now in existence which the bureau feels are adequate for the present and for the supervisors to continue their pledges made to the special districts. This they feel can be done with the reduced tax.

Albert Launer, city attorney of Fullerton talked on the allocation to the cities of a certain portion of the gas tax.

He stated that 11 cities were in complete accord concerning this allocation, but that their main objective was to make an impartial study of all tax matters and the spreading of taxes and that he believed that a new program and distribution of tax money should be set up.

Flaherty said that the movement before the supervisors now for a reduction to the 10 cent road tax and for a new set up and redistribution of funds, this being the result of the meeting between the farm bureau and representatives of the cities. It is the opinion of those who had gone into the matter that the main issue at present is the maintenance of the fine road system already built and that there was no need for new roads at the present, he said.

The moral and social quality of the ten commandments cannot be adequately appreciated until one considers them in perspective, both in relation to the world surrounding the small nation to which they were given and in relation to the modern world.

Take such a commandment as the fifth—Honor thy father and mother that thy days may be long in the land which the Lord thy God giveth thee.

Men and women who have been brought up in the atmosphere of that commandment, who have had and have a proper feeling of love and reverence for their parents, are hardly in a position to realize its significance. Outside the area of Jewish and Christian ethics there has been little emphasis upon loving and honoring parents. The practice of killing of the old folks when they became burdensome, or of submitting them to exposure which hastened their death, has not all been confined to savage and primitive peoples.

That profound family ethics, which was engendered in the Jewish race, which continues in that race today, and which coming from that quarter has been so emphasized in Christianity, is one of the brightest and noblest things in the history of mankind.

It marks the heritage of Jewish and Christian principles and teaching as immeasurably higher than anything in the surrounding world.

One might comment similarly upon the sixth commandment with its emphasis upon the redness of human life. Unfortunately here the modern world lags far behind the commandment. There is in our modern world in many quarters a cynical disregard of human life.

It is evident not only in the gangster's philosophy, but in the recklessness of automobile driving which ruthlessly, and needlessly, destroys many victims, in the relative disregard of life in industry and in the murderous practice of war which nations, despite the Kellogg pact, have not abrogated in practice. The modern world along this line has a long way to go before it will catch up with Moses.

We are living in an age when many attacks are made upon the sexual morality of Jewish and Christian codes. But in the light of the highest ideals of love and happy home relationships can any Reformed Presbyterian church, Myrtle and Hickory streets; Samuel Edgar, minister. Bible school at 9:45 a. m., prayer hour following. No preaching service as pastor and congregation are in a intelligent or fair-minded person question the validity of the seventh commandment?

Are not the front pages of our daily papers, with their continuous records of unhappy home life and divorce, the surest evidences that men and women do not improve their condition or their happiness when they depart from the loyalty and integrity of life's deepest relationship?

The commandment against stealing is not quite so simple as it was for the primitive community to which Moses gave it. Then a man's possessions were rather clearly defined. He knew what was his, he knew what was another's, and they both knew rather clearly what belonged to all.

BOOKS AND SLIDES

It is the ninth inning, two men are out and Pitcher Tommy Bridges of Detroit has only one man to retire for a perfect ball game, a game in which he has allowed no runs, no hits, no man to reach first base.

It is Pitcher Burke's turn to bat for Washington, instead, Manager Walter Johnson sends Dave Harris and Johnson ever since the game, a game in which he has allowed no runs, no hits, no man to reach first base.

Detroit fans have been booing Harris and Johnson ever since the game, a game in which he has allowed no runs, no hits, no man to reach first base.

"Why did I put in a pinch-hitter? Because it is my duty as a manager to play out the string. If Bridges had got Harris, I would have sent him in. But a ball game is not over until the last batter has been retired."

"SENT IN TO HIT"

Says Harris: "I had no choice in the matter. I was sent in there to hit and I hit the first ball pitched into left center for a single. I would have been just as happy as anyone else if the ball had been caught, because I knew that I was trying and that if I went out Bridges had earned the perfect game."

Says Joe Judge, Washington first baseman: "I could have murdered him when he hit that ball."

Says Ray Heyworth, Detroit catcher: "He should have struck out purposely."

EARL WAVED AT 'EM

Says Earl Webb, Detroit outfielder: "When I was with Boston and Bob Burke had a no-hit game in his pocket in the ninth inning I went up and waved at three of them. It's no use taking a record away from a guy just for a base hit."

Says Bridges, himself: "If they can get a hit off you, you don't deserve a no-hit game. It wouldn't be worth anything if you didn't earn it."

Says Bucky Harris: "Walter Johnson himself would have pitched a perfect game if it hadn't been for me. I made the error—it was in 1920 when I was with Washington—and my miff let the only runner get on base."

Says Joe Judge, again: "We had another game in Washington a few years ago. Ted Lyons had shut us out without a hit and two were out in the ninth. Bob walked up and cracked out a double."

Says Heinie Manush: "Bridges should have thrown Harris a curve ball instead of a fast one. Harris is a sucker for a curve ball."

And what do you say, yourself?

LOBERT AND OVERALL

Here's a story about an old baseball friendship that endured brightly through the stress of a similar incident. The characters were Hans Lobert of the Cincinnati Reds and Orvie Overall, Cub pitcher, of the great Chicago team early in the century.

Whenever the Reds and Cubs met, Lobert and Overall were inseparable buddies. They went to shows together, visited at each other's homes, sat together in hotel lobbies.

One year the Cubs were fighting for the pennant. It was near the end of the season, and the Reds were far down in the second division, going nowhere. The Cubs won a slight lead came to Cincinnati. For eight innings, Overall set down the side without a run. The Cubs had a one-run lead.

LOBERT BREAKS IT UP

In the ninth, the Reds managed to get two men on, and Lobert came to bat. Hans took a mighty cut at the first ball and drove out the hit that scored his mates with the winning run. On the way to the clubhouse, Hans caught up with his pal. He took his arm.

"Sorry, Orvie," said Lobert. Overall turned and patted him on the shoulder.

The two walked arm in arm to the clubhouse. The Cubs lost the pennant that year, by a narrow margin. But the friendship between Hans Lobert and Orvie Overall went on just the same.

There was the bond between square shooters, and it was stronger than pennant desires or whatever you care to name.

Anahelm 15, Huntington Beach 6.
Torrance 15, Long Beach 2.
Westminster 4, Olive 1.

The checkered flag will be waved on the National Night league's 1932 pennant race after a game at the Bowl tonight between Santa Ana and Olive, runners-up to Anaheim for the second half championship.

With second place at stake, the teams are meeting in what amounts to a playoff of a game at Olive a week ago which was called off in the fourth inning after a collision between Ray Shell and "Chisel" Hatfield which rendered both Olive players unconscious.

Hatfield will be back in the lineup tonight but Shell, still nursing shoulder injuries, will be here only as a spectator.

Home Game for Olive

The contest is technically a home game for Olive, so the Santa Ana team will go to bat first. Incidentally the bulk of gate receipts will go to Olive which gave all money's last week's encounter to the injured players to take care of their hospital and medical expenses.

With Shell out of action entirely and Hatfield's condition none too certain, Olive's board of strategy—Messrs. Ben Gelker, Harvey Stoner and Trafford Watson—plans to revamp the Packer lineup accordingly.

Hatfield will be moved into the outfield, probably Shell's center field patrol, and "Hen" Thierly, the red-haired Santa Ana jaycee who has been doing a dandy job of catching, will work at second base or shortstop. Bill Bushman, slow of foot but mighty of arm, will catch the great Rudy Heman's puzzling deliveries.

Cornelius Stars' Choice

Other Olivemans will maintain customary positions—Bill Sweet at first base, Larry Heman third, Terry Griffith shortstop or second base, Fritz Gunther left field, and Pargue right field.

Joe Cornelius is slated to hunt for the Stars and "Eeny" Wilcox will catch. Ed Daley, George Preble, Tom Denney and "Memphy" Hill compose the usual infield, with Leavitt Daley, Rod Ballard and "Rosy" Merrill in the gardens.

The Stars will "bear down" with all their might on Olive which is the only team in the league from whom Santa Ana has been unable to win a majority of its games.

Even Anaheim has been outperformed by Santa Ana than the Packers who already hold two victories in three starts against George Lackey's henchmen.

Game-time is 8:30, half-an-hour later than usual.

PARKER WINS FROM MAKU IN FIVE SETS

CULVER, Ind., Aug. 13.—(UP)—Frank Parker, Milwaukee, won the National junior tennis singles championship here today by wearing down Gene Mako, California, and taking the last three sets in the five-set match. The scores were 6-8, 3-6, 6-1, 9-7, 6-2.

Parker's endurance and his remarkable control were the decisive factors in a brilliant battle.

Stars Will Play Series Games Here

Santa Ana will play all its home games of the Santa Ana-Anaheim "little world series" where they should be played—in Santa Ana's Bowl.

Ending a dispute of a week, officials of the Stars announced today they had "compromised" with the Santa Ana city council as to how much of the gate receipts the city could collect as park rental. Originally, the city had demanded 20 per cent.

A final conference of National Night league officials will be held at Westminster at 10 a.m. Sunday to map plans for the series which begins here Tuesday.

Already, Santa Ana officials have announced that no seats will be reserved; all seats will cost 25 cents; children as well as adults must pay, and no passes except press and officials' passes issued by President Peterkin will be honored here.

Torrance today sandwiched itself in between Santa Ana and Olive as the third place team of the National Night league as a result of its 15-3 triumph over the Long Beach Acorns at Long Beach last night.

The "baby member" of the nocturnal conference made a fine showing this season, especially in the second half, and promises to do even better next summer if the job sticks in the fold.

Deane Downer's homer, with one aboard, put Long Beach ahead in the first inning but Torrance soon got those runs back and kept piling up counters as the thing continued.

Lower and Robinson hit homers.

WESTMINSTER LOWERS OLIVE'S COLORS

Westminster dropped Olive to fourth place in National Night league standings by decisioning the Packers, 4-1, at Westminster. Earl Morrill outpitched Rudy Heman all the way.

Westminster got three in the first inning. Hosack walked and Hunter and Sauer beat out bunts. Hosack scored after Gardner's outfield fly and Hunter and Sauer tallied on Davis' double.

Morrill's single, Hosack's infield out and singles by Hunter and Sauer added another flyer run in the fifth.

Olive's lone tally was a result of Griffith's life on McGuire's error and a double by Pargue.

One change in next week's Class A schedule was announced by Director Merle Ewell. Randolph Bell and A. C. Finster will meet Monday instead of Tuesday.

There was real pathos in the performance of Fridolin, the mount of Lieut. Arne Francke of Sweden. Fridolin, 13-year-old reserve horse of the Swedish team, was too exhausted to take the last four jumps of the cross country race, and there were tears in the eyes of Lieut. Francke as he tenderly walked his mount over the furrows of a ploughed field to the finish of the course.

Rowers Divide Honors

The first day of rowing, which served as prelude to the mighty contest of the eight-oared shells this afternoon, found Germany, England, Australia, and the United States dividing honors.

The best race of the program was the four-oared shell with coxswain. The German crew, closing with a mighty drive, won by not more than a few feet from Italy, which had led throughout.

W. G. Miller, the American single sculls representative, put up a brave race against "Bobby" Pearce of Australia, the defending champion, but Pearce, without even raising his stroke, kept ahead of the valiant Miller and won by less than a length in probably the most convincing individual exhibition of prowess the regatta has ever seen.

This talent will play association ball until the start of the Southern California Winter league.

PROBATION PLEA IS ENTERED BY WILKIE

Appearing before Superior Judge G. K. Scovel, department three, yesterday for pronouncement of judgment, Frank Wilkie, recently convicted of failure to provide for his wife, a felony, made a plea for probation. Pronouncement of judgment was delayed and the hearing on his probation plea set for September 2.

Wilkie was convicted last week at his second trial on the felony count. At his first trial the jury failed to reach an agreement after deliberating for approximately 12 hours. In his defense Wilkie claimed that he had given his wife $60 during the time from their separation until his arrest. His wife charged that he had given her but $13 and the prosecution proved that just prior to the separation Wilkie had deposited approximately $1500 in the bank and had expended $200 for his personal use.

ARREST FILIPINO FOR KNIFE ATTACK

Charged with assault with intent to do bodily harm, Pedro Rosales, 26, Filipino laborer, was arrested last night after he assertedly brandished a large butcher knife against Joe McAlma and C. M. Tobia, 1907 West Fifth street, Santa Ana.

According to Roy Heard and Richard Barnard, police officers who made the arrest, McAlma and Tobia went to see Rosales in his home at the Astor Court on West Fifth street to see about some money the Filipino owed them. Rosales attacked the men with the long knife but had it taken from him before he could inflict any injuries.

Injured Youth In County Hospital

Carmen Monqueda, 1231 West Second street, was removed to the Orange county hospital from Whittier yesterday and is in a serious condition from a fractured skull received in an automobile accident.

Following his injury in Whittier, the Santa Ana Mexican was taken to the Whittier hospital. S. M. Guiven and E. Reda of Santa Ana authorized local police to have Monqueda returned to the local hospital.

Police News

Edward L. Putnam has been sentenced to 30 days in the county jail by Police Judge John G. Mitchell. Putnam pleaded guilty to an assault charge brought by his wife.

Two speeders have been fined and another motorist fined for overtime parking by Police Judge John G. Mitchell. Richard Scherr of New Jersey was fined $5 for speeding and Benjamin Claff of Los Angeles, paid $7 on the same charge. Lucas Lucio, Santa Ana, paid $1 for overtime parking.

Florence Berry, 211 Twelfth street, reported to local police that her Buick automobile was stolen Wednesday night in Huntington Beach.

A 16-year-old girl was reprimanded and released yesterday after she was apprehended for shoplifting in a local five and ten cent store. When the goods were returned, no complaint was made. She was also suspected with taking merchandise from two other Santa Ana stores. Edith Gallup and Sergeant Harry Fink answered the call.

J. STUART HYDANUS

COME to CHURCH

A SERMONETTE

By REV. J. STUART HYDANUS

Pastor, First Presbyterian Church, Tustin, Calif.

"For I am not ashamed of the Gospel of Christ: for it is the power of God unto salvation to every one that believeth; to the Jew first, and also to the Greek. For therein is the righteousness of God revealed from faith to faith: as it is written, The just shall live by faith." Rom. 1: 16, 17.

mean the Christian religion,—or to use a better term Christianity.

The Jews as such were very religious but not Christian and crucified the Christ we love and worship.

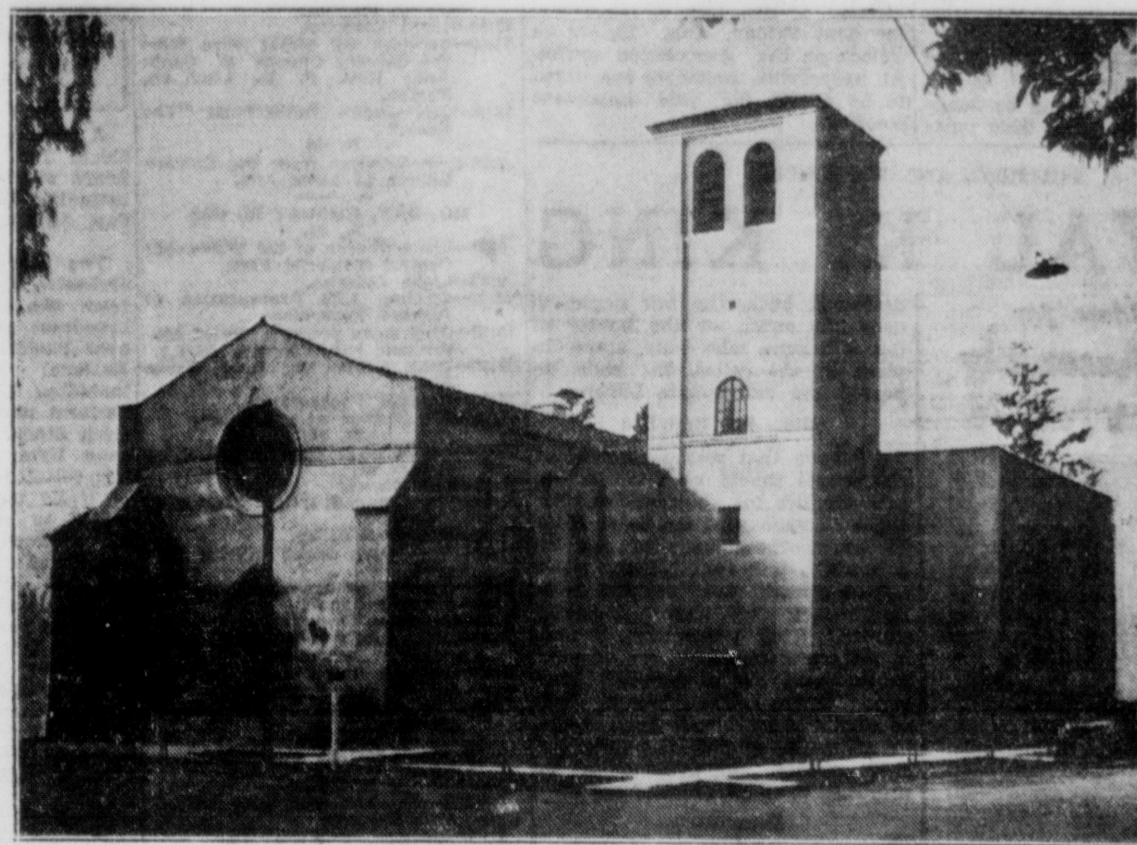

It is not Religious Education. The unbeliever cannot attain salvation by religious education. Man cannot be educated into salvation. Furthermore religious education must be Christian before it can lift the child of God.

It is not imitation of Christ. Christ is not merely the highest expression of religious life but God manifested in flesh, therefore salvation cannot be attained by fashioning our lives on His pattern, by imitating Him or following Him as an example, for man cannot imitate God, the finite cannot imitate the infinite.

It is not a code of ethics, a method of reform or an attainment of character, important as these may be. The pruning of a tree is important but insufficient as long as there is a worm at the root. Sin in the heart of man must be met. "But the natural man receiveth not the things of the Spirit of God: for they are foolishness unto Him; neither can He know them, because they are spiritually discerned". "The carnal mind is enmity against God: for it does not submit itself to the law of God, neither indeed can be. So then they that are in the flesh cannot please God". Men are "by nature the children of wrath". How, then, can sinful, unbelieving man fulfill the principles of Jesus Christ until he first becomes a partaker of the Divine Nature. Some speak of "applying the principles of Jesus" as we would speak of Simonizing an automobile.

It is not attained by Christianizing the social order. Salvation is intensely social in its results, not in its means of appropriation. Our duty is not to Christianize the nation, but to evangelize the nation.

It is not received or attained by human righteousness. We become partakers of the Divine Nature, as a gift by grace through faith we receive the righteousness of God, "even the righteousness of God which is by faith of Jesus Christ unto all and upon all them that believe: for there is no difference: for all have sinned, and come short of the glory of God"; it is not attained by "trying to live the Christian life," for none can live the Christian life, except Christ; it is His life, not ours. "I am crucified with Christ: nevertheless I live; yet not I but Christ liveth in me: and the life which I now live in the flesh I live by the faith of the Son of God, who loved me, and gave Himself for me." Thus salvation is not attainable for "by grace are ye saved through faith; and that not of ourselves: it is the gift of God: not of works, lest any man should boast".

This salvation is revealed in the written Word, the special, authoritative revelation from God to man. It is based upon the death and resurrection of Jesus Christ, for "if Christ be not raised then is our faith vain."

The Gospel of Christ is the "Good News of Salvation". Man is a violator of law. He cannot make full satisfaction for offenses, nor can he in a state of unrighteousness render acceptable obedience to the law of God. He needs atonement which he cannot make for himself.

Salvation is by intervention of a substitute (Christ Jesus) making atonement, rendering complete satisfaction to divine law in our behalf and is therefore wholly of grace. "In whom ye also, after that ye heard the word of truth, the Gospel of your salvation: in whom also after that ye believed, ye were sealed with that holy Spirit of promise."

The good news, the doctrine of the cross, the doctrine salvation by one who came into our exact place and became answerable for all that was against us, has in all the centuries of the Christian era been esteemed foolishness. With tireless toil in all the ages have men striven to set forth some salvation better suited to the pride and self-sufficiency of the human heart. Meantime the doctrine of the cross, the doctrine of salvation, by means of the Great Atonement, so far from being overthrown by the perpetual assaults made upon it, rises in splendor, glory and power from age to age. It is the only doctrine that brings hope to the perishing. There is a lively brood of philosophers who are fond of perching themselves upon lofty pinnacles from which they may look down with scorn upon the millions of loyal followers of Christ, who unite in saying, Christ "did make a proper, real and full satisfaction." "Jesus paid it all; all to Him I owe." It requires then the supreme acceptance of Christ as our personal Saviour through confession of our sin to Him, a complete repentance and full surrender of heart and life.

In its communication also it is the power of God. In the words of Phillips Brooks: "if men can preach, and preach the very truth of Christ, year after year, and yet souls, thirsty for the water of life, sit at the dry mouths of their well-built channels and thirst in vain for help and salvation, then it must be that the mere telling the Truth as the mind can understand it and the lips can speak it, is not necessarily the communication of the Gospel Life."

FOUR GROUPS OFFER VARIED TYPE PROGRAM

Real entertainment is promised listeners over radio KREG tonight through the presentation of four programs. These four features are of varied type and bring pleasing diversification to the program.

Carlos Molina and his Cocoonet Grove Rumba orchestra, at 6:45 offers the Latin-American atmosphere peculiar to this type of music.

Deacon Brown and his Peace-makers will follow Molina and his group at 7 o'clock with entertainment that can be offered only by the Negro race. This program consists of songs, music, and dialogue.

Old memories will be revived by the Jacques-Jou-Jerville String orchestra playing a group of songs popular sometime ago. This presentation will be followed by the Happy Repairmen's orchestra. This group will inject the modern note in tonight's program.

Earlier in the evening, at 6 o'clock, during the dinner hour, Rosa, Ponselle, John McCormack, Lawrence Tibbett, Renee Chomet and Leopold Godowsky will be presented through a group of electrical recordings.

Ponselle will sing "The Rosary" and "A Perfect Day" and McCormack will offer two of his own favorites, "Silver Threads Among the Gold" and "When You and I Were Young Maggie." Tibbett will sing two Stephen C. Foster songs, "Old Black Joe" and "Uncle Ned." Chomet will play "Rose in the Bud" as a violin solo and Godowsky will close the program playing "Capriccio" and "A La Bien Aimée" as piano solos.

POLITICAL ADVERTISEMENT

LOYAL K. KING

Candidate for State Assembly
District No. 74

TO THE CITIZENS OF THE 74TH DISTRICT

I wish it were possible for me to visit each home, and learn from you your desires in respect to legislation, and explain to you personally my attitude on those matters which are likely to come before the legislature for decision. It is impossible to do this in the limited time which I have and which you have, but as far as it is possible to let you know my attitude on those questions which vitally affect you I shall explain, so that if you desire to further such views, you may support me and I shall appreciate your support.

State Taxes

I believe that state taxes must be reduced, and that means that government expenses must be reduced to the lower incomes of the people of the state. This means that salaries and other expenses must be cut in keeping with the lower prices, or else there must be a reduction through the consolidation of bureaus, offices and commissions, and probably both of these must be done in order that the ends shall be reached. We have had to do this in our business; every business man is doing it in his business, and we all as a people, must do it in our state's business.

Civil Service

I believe in the best possible public service, protected by a Civil Service Commission, and hence I would be opposed to the creation of a new Civil Service commission, the head of which could be removed by the Governor, and give him the opportunity to use these positions for the building of a political machine. The objects of good government will be defeated by such a monstrosity, made up of small office-holders, under any man's personal domination.

Deficiency Judgments

At this hour, many people are losing not only their homes and ranches, but are driven into bankruptcy and dishonor, through the exercise of deficiency judgments. It is my contention that the buyer and seller of property have a financial interest in the property bought or sold until all debts between them are paid. When in the case of real estate values fluctuate owing to reasons beyond the power of either party, then in case the buyer cannot meet further payments the seller shall have the right to take back the property that was sold, but he shall be denied the right to force a sale of the property and bid it in for less than his trust deed or mortgage. Either he shall take the property back and free the buyer from further payments on it or he shall give the buyer time to meet his obligation. At the present time property is foreclosed, sold at public auction for pitiful prices; and a deficiency judgment is taken for the balance, and that deficiency judgment is levied against all other property until the man is utterly ruined. It is not my idea of justice. When a man has lost whatever he has invested in the property and has deeded it back, the law ought to deny the seller, or the holder of the mortgage who may stand in place of the seller, the right to pursue the unfortunate buyer.

Bids for Supplies

I believe that representatives of the people should be compelled to buy supplies for the state and for the subdivisions at the least price at which these supplies can be purchased, and that officials shall not be permitted to use the public money to favor personal friends. That proposition, I feel, is the foundation not only of good government, but of common honesty. Office-holders are trustees of public money, and they should be compelled to buy the most for their money, whether it is in printing, tires or other supplies.

Prohibition

I believe that prohibition represents an ideal worthy of the aspirations of the people of this state and nation, and I align myself with those people and forces who are constantly striving to make prohibition more effective.

Gas Tax

I would compel, by statute, that the County Supervisors return to the political subdivisions of the county the Gas Tax money that has been contributed by each subdivision. The people residing in each subdivision are well able to take care of their own money.

The Sharkey Bill

I opposed this piece of legislation, and am the author of the first editorial that appeared in The Register against that bill.

My position on bills of that character is this: When an industry asks for special legislation for its protection then it should grant to the state and to the people of the state the right to regulate its affairs. The state protects the investments of public utilities, but it also has the right to regulate them. What the Sharkey bill asked was protection from competition without granting to the state the right to regulate the industry. Had the Sharkey bill permitted the government to regulate the price of gasoline in return for the protection that it sought, my attitude would have been different.

Water Conservation

I am opposed to the voting of additional state funds for the spreading of water in the upper Santa Ana basin; until such time as the maximum flood water shall have been spread in the lower Santa Ana canyon. Water flows only a few feet in a year upon underground. It is doubtful if the water stored in the upper Santa Ana canyon will ever reach Orange County. By permitting and encouraging the spreading of flood water in the Upper Santa Ana Basin, other people are establishing rights and getting possession of water that should flow into this county. I strongly urge the people of Orange county to spread as much water as possible in the lower Santa Ana canyon, because this is the water that will replenish our underground basin. Water is absorbed into the underground basin in direct proportion to the surface area covered with water. By increasing the width of the Santa Ana river channel either by small check weirs, or channels or by any other method, the amount of water absorbed into this basin can be greatly increased. But by permitting its diversion long before the water ever arrives in this county, it is lost to our people. Whatever funds are voted to spread water in the Upper Santa Ana are of undoubted benefit to the people of the upper counties, but of little benefit to us, and should they result in the establishment of rights by the people of the other counties, of permanent detriment to us.

Inasmuch as I share in the management of the Santa Ana Register, being the business manager, it should not be difficult for any voters as yet unacquainted with me personally, to form an idea of my character and ability, and my attitude upon most public questions. If you are in doubt on any particular issue which you feel is germane, if you desire to make personal inquiry, I will be glad to answer it, and make such answer public if you wish.

Yours truly,

LOYAL K. KING

Oil Spray Charts Now Available

G. D. Bender of the division of chemistry, state department of agriculture, who was in Santa Ana yesterday conferring with A. A. Brook, agricultural commissioner, announced that his division has ready for distribution a special chart on oils and oil sprays for summer pest control work on citrus trees.

He said that there is a total of 133 brands made up of emulsions and straight oils for tank mix purposes. Accompanying the chart is a thorough explanation of its usage, Bender said. The charts may be secured from the state department of agriculture at Sacramento without cost.

CIVIC LEAGUE IN REVIEW OF ITS ACTIVITIES

By WAYNE GOBLE
Secretary, Orange County Civic League

The people of Orange county have been "coming down to earth" very rapidly the past three years.

Up to then we had all been "boasters" and it was very unpopular to oppose any expenditure of money, if somebody labeled it "progress."

Money and prosperity went to our heads and our power to think independently went to sleep. Everybody was getting rich, at least on paper, and we would take most anybody's advice; buy anybody's stocks, and vote for anybody's bonds.

Then a few of us people had the unutterable gall to dare openly to oppose the voting of a huge bond issue to build a dam near Sulphur Slide and others at various points, the total issue aggregating $16,500,000, and which, with interest and maintenance, would have cost us forty million dollars over a period of 40 years.

Bonds Beaten
And horror of horrors! On election day a majority of the voters agreed with them. Since then, a better water conservation plan which would cost five million dollars less has been presented to the board of supervisors, but nothing has been done about it.

A short time later, following a petty annexation squabble between the city councils of Santa Ana and Orange, and due to the fact that the state highway commission had not straightened out El Camino Real when it should have, Santa Ana taxpayers were faced with a large bond issue for Santa Ana boulevard, without a vote except by the five members of the city council.

Again some of us dared to object to such high-handed government, and in the strongest initial objection coming from some of us on North Main street who had bought business values and were not willing to be taxed for the next 25 years for a road, without a vote, which would kill those business values we thought we had bought.

City Recall
Our protest was ignored, and it led to a recall election, when more than 3000 Santa Ana voters went to the polls and voted to recall the entire board of city trustees from office, while 1500 more who did not approve of the boulevard plan yet voted against the recall because they were told it would hurt the city.

The Santa Ana boulevard went through, and the mighty nice thorough, saving about a minute between Main street and the county hospital. It should be a good boulevard, for it is costing this year 25 cents per $100 valuation for every piece of Santa Ana real estate, exclusive of buildings and improvements, and it will take 20 years yet to pay for it.

After becoming immersed in two such controversies and being "blacklisted" by the financial and political powers, quite a number of us kept our organization together to effect some much-needed changes in the last Santa Ana city election, and then decided to make it a permanent body, county-wide in scope, to effect tax reductions and be an agency through which the average citizen could find expression in his striving for justice and a more representative government.

Our members helped to kill the East Fourth street viaduct scheme after it cost the taxpayers over $8000 for preliminary work.

Support Growing

Through publishing information and otherwise, we helped to save the taxpayers of Santa Ana and Orange county many thousands of dollars last year, and we are happy to see further budget cuts and reductions being scheduled for this year. The Associated Chambers of Commerce, a former "booster" organization, and the Farm Bureau recently joined in the campaign, lending their support to the move for lower taxes.

When we opposed the Sulphur Slide damsite, the Register opposed us—until the last day when a reporter saw a sample of "foundation" melt in a glass of water. When we sought to prevent construction of the Santa Ana boulevard, the Register, along with the Times and the chamber of commerce, were opposed to us. And when we participated in the last city election, the Register was again on the opposite side, with the exception of one or two candidates.

When some of us were undergoing an economic boycott for standing by our convictions and some folks would hardly speak to us on the street, the Register was on the other side, although to its credit be it said, space was given us at times to present our views. After we "broke the ice," and since the depression has become general, the Register adopted many of our views, and now the Chambers of Commerce, Farm Bureau, and other organizations are doing likewise.

No Axe to Grind

We are glad to see taxes reduced along sensible lines and realize, accomplished, no matter who gets the credit or by what agency the benefits are brought about. The Civic League has no selfish axe to grind and has never asked anything or sought anything from public officials except that they honestly do their duty and seek to serve the people, conscientiously, and for the results achieved we are thankful.

But M. does kinder get under our skin at times—at this late date after all our struggles and when complete victory is in prospect—that the Register tries to claim credit for all the good work accomplished, that other newspapers call us a "hand-maiden" of the Register, whatever that is, and that the rumors are passed around that James Irvine has given us a lot of money, which we did not get. It's too much like the tall wagging the dog!

The Register is entitled to some credit for the tax fight, but not all of it, for without the lead of the Civic League it might never have been undertaken. The Register has been a "hand-maiden" of the Civic League and we're glad, for it has been of invaluable assistance in getting information to the public which other newspapers refused to print. And we wish the other rumors were true—that Irvine's millions were back of the Civic League. If so, we would not have permitted our telephone to be shut off for three months or the office rent to accumulate until we dread to see the landlord.

Financial Aid

Why is it true, in all worthwhile public endeavors, that the "big fellows" don't contribute, and the burden must be borne entirely by the persons of little means who can only spare a dollar or two at a time, and it's an uphill struggle even to keep going? If Irvine, Kraemer, Chapman, Bixby, McFadden, Borchard, Moulton, Tuffee, Porter, McFadden, Bryant or any other large taxpayer believes in the Civic League work and wants to help it along with a check, it will be gratefully received and applied to the Civic League campaign for a better and more economical government which will benefit everybody, large or small. After these months of struggle, I think we could stand the shock! The important thing is to finish the job, through the co-operation of many thousands of people and the ALL who participate and can share in the credit and the satisfaction of a good job well done. Many of the workers have stuck loyally through three years of struggle and have made sacrifices in time and money to keep the League alive, for which we are deeply grateful. But the struggle is not over, and right now we need the support and co-operation of all others who believe in clean government for the benefit of the majority.

FOUR PRISONERS APPEAR IN COURT

Four prisoners appeared before Superior Judge James L. Allen yesterday in department two for arraignment and probation hearings. John Rose and Henry Eli, accused by the district attorney of arson, requested through their attorney D. G. Wetlin a continuance of the arraignment until next Friday. This was granted.

Roy Davis arraigned on charges of liquor possession and prior convictions pleaded guilty to the prior convictions and entered a plea of not guilty to the possession charge. He demanded a jury trial which was set for August 18.

Probation for three years with one of the conditions that he spend 60 days in the county jail was granted Carlton J. Clements who recently pleaded guilty to a charge of issuing fictitious checks. Another term of his probation was that he must repay the worthless checks after his release from jail.

Popular Bride-to-be Given Linens at Shower

A lovely shower whose every appointment was suggestive of bridal days was given last night in Huntington Park to compliment Miss Ruth Mettler of Fullerton, whose marriage to Clarence Ranney of Santa Ana is to be an event of early September.

Fiancee of Aviator Complimented at Smart Affairs

Included among the many lovely affairs given in honor of Miss Margaret Knuth, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. William A. Knuth Jr. of Orange, who is to wed Lieutenant James Workman of March Field, on August 21, were two events of the past week. The first of these was given by Mrs. Alfred Dierker and her sister, Miss Charlotte Knuth, who entertained a group of cousins of the bride-to-be at an evening of bridge, and the other was given Thursday evening by Miss Lois Clement who also entertained with a bridge party, her mother, Mrs. W. E. Clement, assisting her.

In Dierker Home
Mrs. Dierker and Miss Knuth served delectable refreshments after the card game, using a glass service of varying colors at the tables. The early part of the evening was spent on the grounds of the home, where a tempting steak dinner was served in the grape arbor. One long table decorated with flowers was used at this time, and was illuminated with the many bright lights strung about the garden.

Guests adjourned indoors for an evening of 500. The hostess had made her home in readiness for the enjoyable occasion by decorating the rooms with many lovely flowers. Mrs. Meyer was presented with various gifts from the assembled group.

THESE FOUR LOVELY GIRLS ACTIVE IN RECENT EVENTS OF GENERAL INTEREST

Miss Vi-Stan Chisholm

MRS. HAROLD P. BECKMAN

MRS. CLARENCE SORESEN

MRS. CHARLES WOODFILL

MISS VI-STAN CHISHOLM

It is with a world of interest that the young married set of Orange is anticipating the arrival late in September, of an addition to the group when Miss Vi-Stan Chisholm, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Stanley Chisholm of Vallejo and Benicia, comes south as the bride of Kellar Watson Jr., son of Mr. and Mrs. Kellar Watson of Orange. Miss Chisholm's betrothal to the Southland druggist was announced in July at a unique Hawaiian luncheon given by her mother. She attended Mills college for two years, then attended University of California at Los Angeles, taking prominent part in scholastic and campus activities at both schools. Mr. Watson was a member of the 1927 graduating class of University of Southern California, and a member of Phi Delta Chi fraternity.

MRS. HAROLD P. BECKMAN

Santa Ana friends of Harold Beckman, son of Mr. and Mrs. Arthur J. Beckman, 1338 South Parton street, have been delighted at the opportunity to meet his charming bride, formerly Miss Frances Louise Bobbitt, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. James David Bobbitt of Los Angeles. The young people were married on July 30 at an 8:40 o'clock ceremony in the romantic setting afforded by the Wee Kirk o' the Heather, Glendale. Miss Dorothy Beckman, a sister of the bridegroom, was one of the bevy of pretty bridesmaids, while Paul Beckman acted as his brother's best man. After their honeymoon in Coronado, Mr. and Mrs. Harold Beckman went to West Hollywood where Mr. Beckman has been employed since his completion of Santa Ana high school and junior college.

MRS. CLARENCE SORESEN

Yesterday's marriage of Miss Norma Tantlinger, daughter of W. W. Tantlinger of Newport road, Tustin, to Clarence Sorensen, son of Mr. and Mrs. Thomas Sorensen of Vancouver, B. C., is not to interfere with the college plans of this lovely young Tustin girl, for after a month's visit in Vancouver where Mrs. Sorensen will take her second year of college work at Radcliffe while Mr. Sorensen takes graduate work at the Harvard Graduate School of Business Administration.

Mrs. A. L. Steward

Chapter received special honors at the convention, for Mrs. R. H. Sandoz was appointed district deputy over the nine Southland chapters of district No. 9, while Mrs. Steward not only was installed in the office of outside sentinel of the grand chapter, but was institute deputy to Los Angeles Y. L. I.

Games Introduced

After due consideration given to these and other business matters, attention was transferred to social phases of the evening and guests were given tally cards for a session of bunko. A social committee with Mrs. E. J. Voas-kuhler as chairman, and the Misses Elaine, Nellie and Rose Colombini as members, had planned the decorations which converted the big hall into a charmingly homelike place in which to stage a party. Garden flowers in miniature. Mrs. Sorensen had her freshman year at Pomona where her varied talents found expression in one scholastic triumph after another. Mr. Sorensen graduated from Pomona college in June.

MRS. CHARLES WOODFILL

Active in affairs of Eta Epsilon chapter of Kappa Delta Phi sorority, Mrs. Charles Woodfill recently returned to her Santa Ana home after accompanying the chapter president, Miss Louise Pee, to the national convention held in Port Wayne, Ind., to which they were delegates. The two pretty Santa Ana delegates followed adjournment of the convention sessions with a trip to New York City where they spent a week at the Pennsylvania hotel while seeing various points of interest in the eastern metropolis, including galleries, current plays, etc. Returning to California, they sailed on the S. S. Dixie to New Orleans where they were entertained by John Kinsley Hancock, formerly of this city. They were absent on the trip for over a month. Mrs. Woodfill was formerly Miss Melvina Frye.

Mr. Sorensen duplicated

among the men of Pomona college, many of the successes of his lovely bride. He was a member of the 1922 graduating class and was president of Phi Delta fraternity during both semesters of his senior year. He also made the honorary society, Ghosts, an organization for upper classmen.

Members will stage

a benefit bridge party in the Clyde H. Ashen home, 1502 French street, and on Monday, the 29th, there will be a covered dish dinner at 6:30 o'clock in Anaheim park, with Mrs. Arthur Lirette and Mrs. Frances Morland heading the committee in charge.

The card party in the Ashen home will be to raise funds for the chapter's contributions to Patna Mission in Patna, India, where Mrs. Ashen's brother, the Right Rev. J. Sullivan, S. J., is the bishop in charge. Capistrano chapter adopted this mission as its special project and devotes its funds to preparing a native student for the priesthood.

Miss Norma Tantlinger Weds Canadian at Home Ceremony

Probably no wedding of the summer has been of more interest to friends in Santa Ana and its vicinity than that of Miss Norma Tantlinger, daughter of the W. W. Tantlingers of Newport boulevard, to Clarence Sorensen, son of Mr. and Mrs. Thomas Sorensen, 1825 King Edward avenue, Vancouver, British Columbia, which took place at high noon yesterday in the home of the bride's parents.

Zinnias, the favorite flower of Miss Tantlinger, were chosen to deck the home for the ceremony, which made her the bride of the young Canadian, and the loveliest of the flowers were used to form an archway beneath which the young people spoke their vows. The Rev. George A. Warner, pastor of Santa Ana First Methodist Episcopal church, read the service in the presence of only members of the immediate family circle.

For Home Rites

For the ceremony, which was of the simplest description, with no attendants for either bride or groom, Miss Tantlinger's Grecian purity of feature and delicacy of coloring were supreme in a severely plain little traveling costume of forest green ostrich weave worn with russet brown accessories and with a corsage cluster of gardenias to lend the bridal touch. She was given in marriage by her father.

Following the ceremony Mr. and Mrs. Tantlinger were hosts at a wedding breakfast served in the Doris Kathryn Tea Shoppe where the happy brideal mood was expressed in pink and white appointments. Stately amaryllis lilies were combined with breath of heaven in adhering to this general effect; artistic little nut cups continued the motif, and place cards, the beautiful work of Miss Ruth Tantlinger, were in complete harmony. The breakfast menu, served in four courses, was concluded with the cutting of a towering pink and white wedding cake by the new Mrs. Sorensen, and its serving with less in appropriate forms.

Guests at Wedding

Places were indicated for the hosts, Mr. and Mrs. Tantlinger, the new Mr. and Mrs. Sorensen, Mr. and Mrs. Rudolph J. Richards of Pomona, and Mr. and Mrs. J. Herbert Ebersole of Santa Ana, brothers-in-law and sisters of the bride; Miss Ruth Tantlinger and Master Keith Tantlinger of the home, and John Newman, Pomona college mate of Mr. Sorensen, and his host for the past few days.

All of the guests at the nuptial rites and the wedding breakfast accompanied the new Mr. and Mrs. Sorensen to Los Angeles harbor to wish them bon voyage as they sailed at 4 o'clock yesterday afternoon on the H. F. Alexander for Vancouver. They plan to spend a month with the senior Mr. and Mrs. Sorensen and other members of the family circle, and late in September will go east, where Mr. Sorensen will enter the Harvard Graduate School of Business Administration.

Interesting School Plans

Mrs. Sorensen will enter Radcliffe college as a sophomore, there to continue her scholastic career begun last year at Pomona college where she had her freshman year after graduating from Tustin high school. Her achievements at Pomona were entirely in keeping with the anticipations of her friends and schoolmates here, for among other things she was winner of the $300 Dowling scholarship; winner of first place in the Declaration contest for freshmen, and in addition to her scholastic successes played prominent part in basketball, hockey and a general athletic program as well as reaped honors as a Thespiast. During her freshman year at Pomona she not only had the leading role in one of the student body plays, but was given the feminine lead in one of the Claremont Community Players' productions given in the Little Theater of Padua Hills.

Her friends also delight in recalling that she was one of only three freshmen elected to the Masquers' society, honorary organization for those excelling in dramatics, and also received the coveted election to membership in Valkyries, honorary women's organization in which membership goes only to those who are outstanding in both leadership and character.

Mr. Sorensen duplicated among the men of Pomona college, many of the successes of his lovely bride. He was a member of the 1922 graduating class and was president of Phi Delta fraternity during both semesters of his senior year. He also made the honorary society, Ghosts, an organization for upper classmen.

Co-hostesses Preside At Smart Luncheon And Bridge

The charm of late summer entertaining was exemplified yesterday in the Howard B. Rapp home, 928 North Olive street, when Mrs. Rapp and Mrs. Don Andrews joined in entertaining a little group of friends at luncheon and bridge.

Flowers, which play such prominent part in California hospitality, were unusually beautiful, with dahlias in wide variety as the prevailing blossom. Mrs. George Briggs had sent many of the large display varieties, stately and handsome in their richly vivid colors, while the famous dahlia gardens of the Charles Kelleys, had been gifted with their loveliest pompons in the soft pastel colors, that Mrs. Kelley might show them on the co-hostesses.

From the garden of Mrs. J. E. Little came the quaint old-fashioned little pinks with their delicate petals and spicy odor, which were arranged in silver vases to center each of the luncheon tables where guests enjoyed the appetizing three-course menu served in advance of the bridge session.

Mrs. LaMont McPadden assisted Mrs. Andrews and Mrs. Rapp in their hostess duties, which included the tallying of scores at the close of the contest. Card tables proved to be the desirable prizes chosen by the two hostesses, and were awarded the winners at each of the four tables. Mrs. George Kenneth Scovel, Mrs. Byron V. Curry, Mrs. F. E. Farnsworth and Mrs. Charles R. Couden.

Eastern Guests Will Enjoy Extended Visit Here

Mr. and Mrs. James B. Smith of 1234 South Ross street, are entertaining as a guest, their nephew, Herbert Grant Cromwell, who arrived Wednesday on the Yale, after visiting in San Francisco and in Berkeley with his cousin, Mrs. Albert E. Peterson, formerly Miss Vera May Smith of this city.

Mr. Cromwell, whose home is in Blue Island near Chicago, Ill., came by automobile to the Bay Cities, and expects to remain in California until the end of September. He will be joined here at the end of the week by his mother and sister, Mrs. George M. Cromwell and Miss Lois Pauline Cromwell, who will remain until late September when all will return east in time for Miss Cromwell to resume her studies at University of Chicago.

Mrs. Cromwell and Miss Cromwell also will come to the Southland by way of Berkeley where they will stop for a brief visit with Mr. and Mrs. Peterson. Miss Cromwell who in June completed her freshman year at the University of Chicago, recently won a $300 scholarship towards her sophomore year, together with other cash prizes including one of $50 in a poem reading contest. She has gained quite a bit of fame in the middle west metropolis, for her expression programs and has profited by her ability as a reader in putting herself through school.

Mr. and Mrs. Smith and their nephew plan to see some of the closing events of the Olympiad, and after the arrival of the other members of the family, will enjoy a series of trips and outings to nearby places of interest.

Hostess Trio Honors Bethel Guardian At Tea Event

A garden tea with all the charm that is associated with all fresco events, was the delightful manner in which three young hostesses, the Misses Barbara Berger, Margaret Sawyer and Ruth Dohmer, chose to compliment Mrs. B. H. Baker, guardian of the Santa Ana chapter of Job's Daughters.

Thursday afternoon was the time selected for the affair, and guests were received in the shady garden of the Romaine Berger home at 1321 Spurgeon street. Flowers growing in the borders and arranged on tables, were no more colorful and lovely than the bevy of guests in their airy afternoon frocks, and the hostesses who stood in formal receiving line with their honor guest, Miss Berger chose a quaint gown of soft blue embroidered silk; Miss Sawyer's crisp organdy was in flower design with rose tones dominant, and Miss Dohmer wore turquoise blue chiffon. All were becoming garden party hats in smart rough straw. Mrs. Baker, their honoree, was gowned in flowered chiffon worn with hat to harmonize.

Garden chairs and swings were grouped in friendly intimacy, and scattered over the grass were bridge tables, shaded by gay Deauville umbrellas. Colorful flower tallies were distributed for the recording of bridge scores, and late in the afternoon prizes of cosmetics and dainty bath powders, wrapped and tied with pastel tissues and ribbons, were awarded Miss Betty Niedergall, Miss Louise Sexton and Mrs. Walter Wright, scoring first, second and low.

At the tea hour, tables were arranged with linens and flowers in garden motif, and tea was served from a buffet table banked with asters whose velvety petals were in the same lovely tints as the candles. Mrs. Baker and Mrs. George Shiple presided at the tea urns. Delicate little sandwiches and pastel-tinted French pastries were served.

Guests sharing the pleasant courtesy extended to Mrs. Baker by the Misses Berger, Dohmer and Sawyer, included the Misses Carol Cogan, Bethel Dickinson, Thelma Shiple, Juliette Taylor, Virginia Warner, Alberta Greene, Katherine Sexton, Maxine Decker, Betty Niedergall, Charlotte McCausland, Louise Sexton, Ruth Baker, Mary Paxton, Lorraine Wheeler, Dora Perkins, Audrey McDonald, Jeanne Paxton, Jean Berger, Mrs. George Shiple, Mrs. Al. Quiet Wedding Unites Young Couple in Orange

A quiet wedding of yesterday morning was that of Miss Elsie Miller, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Charles C. Miller, 505 North Glassell street, Orange, who was married to Martin Duker, at the St. John's Lutheran church, the ceremony taking place at 10 o'clock with the Rev. A. C. Rode reading the impressive service.

Miss Miller was attended by Miss Agnes Quandt as bridesmaid and A. H. Clasen served the bridegroom as best man. The bride wore a smart suit of white flat crepe with white accessories and a close fitting white hat which proved most becoming to her brunette beauty. Her arm bouquet of sweet-peas in delicate tints. Miss Quandt was frocked in pink silk and wore a corsage of sweet-peas and tiny blue delphinium.

After the ceremony, relatives and close friends present at the ceremony drove to the ranch home of the bridegroom's parents, Mr. and Mrs. H. W. The young people left immediately afterward for a honeymoon, their destination being known only to themselves.

Capistrano Y. L. I. Has Gift Shower for Bride-elect

When Capistrano chapter Y. L. I. members held their regular meeting Thursday evening in Knights of Columbus hall, they followed their established custom of complimenting the current chapter bride-elect, who in this case chances to be Miss Irene Heim, charming fiancée of Russell E. Deley, and who was made honoree at a gift shower.

The social features of the evening were delayed until the chapter concluded its business session under the leadership of the newly installed president, Mrs. Frank Alair. Much of the time was devoted to reports from the two delegates to the grand convention in San Jose, Mrs. Alair and

Mrs. A. L. Steward. Capistrano chapter received special honors at the convention, for Mrs. R. H. Former Santa Ana And Bride Wedded In Riverside

Mr. and Mrs. W. Francis Robb are enjoying a honeymoon in northern California, with Lake Tahoe as their destination, following their marriage at Wednesday morning, August 10, at St. Cecilia chapel, in the Mission Inn at Riverside.

The bride was formerly Miss Louise Wermelin of Riverside. The bridegroom is the son of Mr. and Mrs. W. R. Robb, 501 South Ross street, Santa Ana.

Eleven o'clock was the hour chosen for the double ring ceremony, performed by Mr. Robb's uncle, the Rev. W. E. Robb, of the Christian church at Riverside and a chaplain in the Rainbow division. Of special significance was the ring presented by the bridegroom by this lovely bride, for she had had the gold band fashioned from a ring originally owned by her father in Sweden. It had been made in Stockholm.

Bouquets of pink and yellow gladioluses gave the floral setting to the service. Miss Wermelin, given in marriage by her uncle, Nathan Tarr of Los Angeles, was attractive in an all-white costume of filmy georgette fashioned with short jacket. Her blond loveliness was accentuated by a crown turban, and a shower bouquet of bride's rosebuds and lilacs of the valley added the final bride touch.

The bride was attended by her sister, Miss Margaret Wermelin, as maid of honor. She was given in pink organza and carried a bouquet of pink roses and white sweet peas. Her picture hat was in white organza.

Bridesmaids wore similar organza frocks with white picture hats. They were Miss Elizabeth Simpson of Riverside wearing yellow and carrying yellow roses and Miss Alma Dorr of Riverside wearing blue and carrying a bouquet of delphinium and roses.

Russell Stubbs of Hollywood, formerly of Santa Ana, attended Mr. Robb as best man, while the latter's nephew was the ringbearer.

The soft organ music played for the ceremony was followed by romantic Spanish airs during the luncheon served following, with the inn orchestra providing the music.

Mr. Tarr was host at the 7-course menu served at a long table in the balcony patio. The bouquet of pink roses and white sweet peas served as a centerpiece was soon surrounded by the lovely blooms in the bride's and bridesmaid's bouquets, for as they arrived on the scene they placed their bouquets one by one down the length of the table.

It seemed especially appropriate that some of the Swedish Olympic stars should be having a celebration at the inn on that day, for the bride is a native of Sweden.

The new Mr. and Mrs. Robb, expected to return from their honeymoon trip about September 1 to establish their home in Riverside, where Mr. Robb is employed with the New York Life Insurance company. For traveling, Mrs. Robb wore an all blue costume.

Mr. Robb is a graduate of Santa Ana junior college, and for several years was employed in the radio department of Sears Roebuck company in this city. He went to Nebraska City high school.

Store Force Enjoys Picnic Outing at Newport Beach

One of the picnic gatherings which each summer add to the pleasure of members of the Rankin store force, was shared Thursday evening by that group when Mr. and Mrs. Herbert P. Rankin invited the members to a picnic supper on the beach at the ocean front, at Newport. Mr. and Mrs. Rankin and their children, little Miss Patricia and Danny Boy, have been spending the summer at the Kiddie Koop.

Between 35 and 40 members of the force took advantage of the invitation, motoring to the beach immediately after the store closed Thursday afternoon. A great fire was built on the sands and corn was placed to roast while steaks were sizzling on a grill. Tables were placed for serving, and the lights were turned on to augment the soft rays of the moon.

Following the appetizing supper which ended with ice cream and cake, the merry-makers enjoyed an hour of story telling and singing around the blazing fire.

Forest Home Visitors Take Four Day Hike To Grey Back

Among the many Santa Anas who are making their summer headquarters at Forest Home, are some who have been leaving the mountain resort long enough to travel on and enjoy trips to lakes and mountains higher up, such as Dollar Lake and Grey Back. A group of local people sharing such an outing within the past few days went on a four-day hiking and camping trip, covering over 35 miles by the time they returned to their camp at Forest Home.

At 5 o'clock one morning, Mrs. Sophie Hanson, Mrs. W. G. Knox, the Misses Annetta and Harriet Howell, Miss Marjorie Knox, and Armand Hanson, Elton Marriott, O. Marriott, Verneth Bickie of this city, John Billheimer of Pasadena and J. J. Gilmore of Fallsview, left for Dollar Lake, ten miles from Forest Home.

Accompanied by pack burros, they camped for the night, left camp at 2 a. m. for old Grey Back and there to see the sun rise. The hike of five miles was made by starlight. Many high banks of snow added brilliance to the scene.

Travelers report that towns below were marked by bright lights, which were especially impressive from the 11,455 feet altitude. The sunrise sent the shadow of old Grey Back for miles and miles over the valley below, toward Saddleback and Santa Ana as well.

Reaching the top of the peak, the hikers warmed their numb fingers over a big bonfire, viewed the nearby snowdrifts, mountains, valleys, lakes and desert through binoculars, and then left for camp. Mrs. Hanson, Elton Marriott and O. Marriott hiked down the old trail from Grey Back to Forest Home, while the rest of the party went back to camp at Dollar Lake, later packing out to Dobb's cabin.

Others who have been visiting Forest Home this summer have shorter vacations, and do not remain long enough for such extended journeys as the one to Dollar Lake. Even though they remain in the mountain setting for only a day or night, they seem to enter into the camp spirit, benefiting greatly by short trips. Potatoes baked in the ashes of a campfire, beans, bacon, and coffee made in a tin can are popular foods much in demand by the visitor, whether or not time is limited.

Recent visitors to Santa Ana camp grounds were Mr. and Mrs. J. P. Ames and daughters, the Misses Ruth and Margaret; Mr. and Mrs. H. C. Neil and sons, Jerry and Allen; Mr. and Mrs. J. C. The MIXING BOWL by ANN MEREDITH

Form Cake Filled With Fresh Fruits Delicious
One of the loveliest desserts served at my table is a form cake filled with fresh fruit and whipped cream. A spring form pan is an investment you'll find use for many a time.

Loaf cakes, difficult to take from the pan, bake to perfection in these spring forms, particularly the angel and sunshine cakes. I find this sponge cake formula bakes splendidly in the spring form. Usually it is made right at dessert time—the contrast of hot cake and chilled fruit being an interesting one.

LEMON SPONGE CAKE FOR SPRING FORM MOULD
Yolks of 4 eggs creamed with 1 cup fine white sugar
5-1/2 tablespoons hot water added after creaming
1 teaspoon vanilla and 1 teaspoon of lemon extract
11-4 cups sifted pastry flour
2-1/2 teaspoons baking powder sifted with flour
1-2 teaspoon salt
4 egg whites beaten stiff and folded into batter last

Follow recipe in order listed for mixing. Brush the mould with oil and bake the cake in a 300 degree oven until well risen, protect with paper and reduce the heat to 250 degrees to finish. Time, about 55 minutes.

A hollow is baked right into the cake—you'll find how to arrange the various parts when you get the pan—and this hollow is filled after baking with fruit topped with whipped cream. Or, the cold cake can be filled with ice cream and served immediately.

TODAY'S RECIPE
APRICOT BAVARIAN CREAM
1 package lemon jelly powder
1 cup boiling water
1 cup canned apricot pulp
1 cup canned apricot syrup
1 cup whipping cream
Pinch of salt
This is one of those never-fail

HOPE CHEST TREASURES, the current leaflet, goes off the free list today; have you sent for your copy? If not, won't you send in a stamped, self-addressed envelope right away so that you won't miss out on this delightful collection of recipes—all usable—all sum'shus food!

MUSIC-LITERATURE-ART

NATIONAL MUSIC CENTER PLANNED

BY RUTH ANDREWS

All over the nation music lovers as well as the great American public are manifesting considerable interest in the activities which are under way at Rockefeller center, more popularly known as "Radio City," the great national radio and entertainment center which has been in the process of construction in New York City for some months past.

This new project, which is now rapidly approaching completion, promises to exert an especially important influence on America's musical and entertainment activities in the near future, and offers striking evidence of how the contemporary tendency of merging great mercantile and financial institutions for the purpose of economy and unity is now even invading the realm of modern art and culture to a marked degree.

Scheduled to open formally next October, the Radio City area is to include among its numerous musical units, the new International Music Hall, which will be outstanding as the world's largest theater, with a seating capacity exceeding 6500, a smaller theater of 3500 seats, and possibly the newly organized Metropolitan Opera company, as well as an immense orchestra. Rumor also has it that a giant holding corporation will control a number of important musical organizations which, although scattered at present in various parts of New York City, will also be housed in the new center of American entertainment upon its completion.

It is felt that with the massing of so many important musical interests within the constant musical City, increased progress can be made in the development of America's musical life, with a minimum of effort, friction and expense.

S. L. Rothafel, prominent in music and entertainment circles of the nation, and familiarly known throughout the civilized world as "Roxy," is general director of the great project. He will direct activities in the big International Concert Hall, where weekly Sunday noon concerts will be given by an orchestra of 225 players, with eminent conductors and internationally famous soloists, to be broadcast for the enjoyment of many thousands of music lovers in all parts of the country.

In addition to its mammoth auditorium, the great hall will include a grand foyer, 18 promenades and passageways, two elaborate lobbies, several smoking rooms and lounges and various reception rooms. Donald Desker, prominent Eastern artist and an exponent of the modern school of design, is in charge of the interior decoration of the hall.

The opening performance to be offered in the big concert hall sometime in October, will include a mammoth and spectacular review of the history of the theater, in which a chorus of 100, an orchestra of 90, and a special ballet of 60 members will participate. Albertina Rasch, internationally noted danseuse, will superintend dancing activities, while Raape and Harman have been engaged as regular conductors. Solo dancers so far engaged include such prominent figures as Kreutzberg and Martha Graham. It is stated that the Tuskegee chorus will also lend novelty during the opening weeks.

It is stated that musical activities running the gamut from grand opera to jazz will be actively represented on Radio City programs. In order that all phases of American musical life may receive their just due, it is predicted, however, that under the influence of the new regime, the older tradition of American grand opera may be changed and modernized to a marked degree, with the production of opera in the new entertainment center henceforth to be decidedly more "impressionistic" in nature, with only the outstanding scenes of operas to be given and the general outline followed. In this new departure from the established mode of grand opera producing will undoubtedly have its influence on the future of American opera, which now hangs in the balance.

Grainger in Recital

Percy Grainger, celebrated composer, pianist and conductor, will appear at the Griffith park Greek theater as featured soloist for the Civic Celebrity Concert event to be staged there next Wednesday evening, August 17. Grainger, who appeared at Hollywood Bowl on several occasions during 1930 and in previous recitals at the Los Angeles Philharmonic, has recently been touring in England and is coming to Los Angeles especially for this event.

Born in Australia, Grainger came to America in 1914, joining the U. S. Army as a bandsman in 1917, later instructing army band leaders at the Army Music School on Governor's Island. In 1918, while still in the army, Grainger became an American citizen. He has made many successful international concert tours, being one of our foremost contemporary pianists, as well as a composer and conductor of note.

Mrs. Ernestine Schumann Heink, world-famous contralto, still active on the concert stage despite her 72 years, has been booked to appear in recital as the concluding event of the Celebrity Series on August 31. Schumann-Heink has been re-engaged to sing next fall at the Metropolitan Opera in New York.

WITH THE ARTISTS

Unearth Mascagni Opera
After being misplaced in an old trunk for over half a century, the contemporary Italian composer Mascagni's first opera, "Pinotta," was recently unearthed, and performed with much success under the composer's own direction in San Remo, Italy. BOOK REVIEWS

By MARY BURKE KING

Red Bread by Maurice Hindus, published by Jonathan Cape and Harrison Smith.

Maurice Hindus is unique among writers on current Russian affairs for although a naturalized American he was born in Russia, of Russian parentage and lived there a number of years before coming to the United States with his parents.

Russia today is a mecca for all the curious. Many people are going to Russia who never were there under the old regime, who cannot speak the language, who depend for their knowledge of the country upon the tourist arrangements made by the Russian government. In spite of that, because among those people there are some excellent minds, capable of penetrating barriers of language and insisting on seeing everything, we have some good material on Russia even from people who have not the background Mr. Hindus has for evaluating changes that are being brought about in Russia and sounding the reactions in the people to those changes.

Mr. Hindus returned to his native region following the period during which terrible pressure was brought upon the peasants to get them into the kolhozes or cooperative farms. The policy of exerting pressure was later abandoned and at the time Mr. Hindus went to Russia last year, and made his study of the cooperative movement which is the subject of this book. The example of the cooperative farms is now conceded to be the best method for getting the farming people into the kolhozes, according to Mr. Hindus. The people in those organizations, however, do have considerable advantage over the people who are outside, many of the advantages being concomitant with cooperation.

The entire book is devoted to the study of rural conditions. He interviewed many people, former friends, boyhood playmates, "experts" from agricultural colleges come to demonstrate and help with different processes on the cooperative farm.

The personal element looms large in the book, because of the emphasis on psychological reactions. Another interesting point brought out in the book is the patience necessary to carry forward policies in a democracy. Nurseries were opened up for the working women, just such institutions as we have in this country for the accommodation of poor working mothers. But the Russian mothers charged that their children, who were being fed proper food for children, were being starved because they were not being fed the black bread and sour cabbage soup which had always been fed in that "dark" section. Another instance was that of the incubators. The chairman of the cooperative farm met violent opposition to the installation of incubators. When he argued that the method was used in the United States the members of the kolhozes said that the eggs might be different over here. At last he won the people to a willingness to experiment with two small incubators. After success had been achieved the people became so enthusiastic for incubators and chickens that there was need to curb them.

Twenty Thousand Years in Sing Sing, by Warden Lewis E. Lawes. "Twenty Thousand Years in Sing Sing" is a book which merits the attention of every adult. It is a fascinating reading, though Warden Lawes doesn't make heroes out of criminals. Books about human beings are always fascinating and when such a book has about it as much that is unusual as has this book about the most famous prison in the country it is sure to be interesting reading.

In addition to that type of interest, however, it is an important book for the study of penology. Mr. Lawes tells considerable about the history of prison reform. And then he expounds his own ideas which have evolved from experience and study.

Warden Lawes opposes capital punishment; he opposes long prison sentences with the objective of reformation of the prisoner. In this book "Twenty Thousand Years in Sing Sing" he says in effect: Here I have done my best to build up a model institution and yet it is not the ideal means of solving society's criminal problem. The solution lies in the guidance of the adolescent and the younger child. Every child, says Mr. Lawes, is entitled to a home. He gives surprising figures showing how many of the criminals are from broken homes. The school, the church, the home, the community are called in by Warden Lawes to assume some of the burden which the prison has had in the past. The prison is a last resort.

"Attacking the problem of crime and criminals through prisons is to approach the problem head-end foremost. The problem does not lie in more and larger and safer prisons." It is rather in ascertaining some method of diminishing prison populations; of reducing them without danger to the peace and security of the public; of turning these prisons into plants where human impulses and the desire of normal living can be recharged with vigor and encouragement.

The layman who is conscientious about his obligations to society is handicapped because there is so much for him to know in every field. He has not the time which is necessary for informing himself on every matter which calls for his judgment. A book or two which presents principles and goals in a particular field of endeavor is a boon for the layman. Warden Lawes' book is the one to read for a proper basis of judgment on the criminal problem.

The Store by T. S. Stribling.

"The Store" which was the Literary Guild book for the month of July follows "The Forge" which was a story of the Vaiden family, closing with the collapse of the South after the Civil war. "The Store" shows Alabama in the late '80's just before the election of Grover Cleveland. It is a second step in a trilogy of the South. The destinies of the Vaiden family are transferred from the old man, "Uncle" Vaiden to his son, "Jimmy" Vaiden. Jimmy is no longer the bold young lover jilted by Drusilla Laceyfield and cruelly taking his revenge from "Gracie," the young quadroon girl of his father's household, but a defeated man married to the dull and fat Panny.

Colonel Miltiades will not accept defeat however. Before the war he was a man of some consequence. He had married with Laceyfield cotton plantation with its slaves and its commissary. Now he had come to live in a ramshackle house with his wife of whom he was ashamed and dream of the times when he was of some consequence in his small world. His downfall and ruin as well as that of the entire Vaiden family are due in his mind to the fact that 20 years before he had been cheated out of $2500 worth of cotton by one J. Handbeck who now owned the one general store in the village and plundered the Negroes, and got his hands on their small farms.

Miltiades planned to avenge himself and his family. He plotted against Handbeck until he had retrieved a fortune and brought down upon himself a penitentiary sentence for violations. It made of Colonel Miltiades a terrible being.

Through the efforts of Sandusky, a rising young lawyer of the town, who set himself the task of negotiating a settlement between Handbeck and Miltiades, the latter was released by the payment of $10,000 to the storekeeper. After this experience Colonel Miltiades seemed to prosper. He married an attractive and desirable young girl, his wife, Panny, having died. But nemesis finally overtook Colonel Miltiades. Since "The Store" is a realistic presentation of life, its readers will be reconciled to the fact that Col. Miltiades' success did not win him security, joy in marriage, or tranquility of spirit.

Spanish Musical Scores Success At Laguna Beach

Colorful, charming and reminiscent of the early days in California, was the Spanish Musical given by the Music Lovers club at Hotel Laguna recently. Spanish paintings of Dona, Senoritas, Spanish dancers and old cathedrals of Mexico, ornamented the walls, while Spanish pottery on the tables and fireplace added a note of charm.

About 200 people thronged the corridors, lounge and veranda during the program, which was planned by Mrs. Fern Burford and Miss Maud Robertson. Jose Arias and three of his troubadours delighted the guests with Spanish, Mexican and Cuban music. Senor Arias expressed himself as very happy to come to Laguna and he had his audience with him from the start. Everyone entered into the spirit of the songs and dances.

After a number of mandolin and guitar numbers by Jose Arias, guitarist and Antonio Corral, mandolinist with Senorita Carmelita clicking the castanets, Senor Arias had the whole group singing old familiar songs.

Millard Sheets will hold a one-man showing of his oils and water colors at the Fern Burford Galleries, beginning August 13. Mr. Sheets has received more prizes than perhaps any other artist on the coast and some of these prize canvases will be seen here during the exhibition.

Through the courtesy of the Burford Galleries, the Festival of Arts committee is hanging the Olympic picture in the lobby and lounge of Hotel Laguna during Artist week. Miss Virginia Woolley has charge of the Olympic exhibition.

Book Notes....

Captain G. S. McNeill, retired skipper of the Mauretania, whose memoirs, in Great Waters, were published by Harcourt, Brace and Company two weeks ago, has just sailed for England on the Mauretania as a passenger. Fellow passengers, it is reported, are wondering how he feels, being on A Deck of the good ship instead of on the bridge.

One of the leading fall biographies on the Houghton Mifflin list will be Stanley Vestal's "Sitting Bull, Champion of the Sioux." The Chief did not spend his entire time fighting in the West, but came East and visited New York City. When asked which of its wonders impressed him most, he is said to have replied: "Little children working."

D. Appleton and Company published "The Family Circle" by Andre Maurois August 5. In it Maurois takes his place among the leading novelists of the day. "The Family Circle" is reported to have made a deep impression already in France and England. In America "The Family Circle" has been read in advance of publication by Dorothy Canfield Fisher. Mrs. Fisher says: "Andre Maurois knows how to create a French family till you see them sitting in the room around you, and how to construct a French small town down to the last stone and the jingle of the last bell."

The Life and Death of Ivar Krueger by William H. Stoneman, is scheduled for publication by the Bobbs-Merrill Company in October. Mr. Stoneman is the Chicago correspondent of the Chicago Daily News. He speaks Swedish fluently, knew Krueger when he was the idol of investors, and is one American newspaper man who has consistently probed for the truth of the stupendous swindle.

One of the outstanding titles on Harcourt, Brace and Company's fall list is T. S. Eliot's Selected Essay: 1917-1932. This is the first time he has prepared for publication a volume that contains his most important work, heretofore scattered through a number of small volumes and journals. To this has been added a number of essays that have not yet appeared in America, making the book a full and representative selection of his writings.

One of the novellists on Houghton Mifflin's list will be H. A. Ripley's "Minute Mysteries"—seventy in number, crisply told with all the facts the detective needs. The reader works out his own solutions, before looking into the back of the book to see if he is right.

Poets of Southern California

By Lee Shippey

A boy, working in a packing plant and writing verse which came back from the editors, Lee Shippey suddenly went blind. That evening his sister brought in the evening paper to find that his work had been accepted for the humor column. That was the start of a long career of newspaper and magazine work in which he has been columnist and special correspondent from France and Mexico.

THE LITTLE BAD BOY

By Lee Shippey

He took his mother's scissors which he knows he mustn't touch. And went into the garden, where he knows he mustn't go. And cut off all the lily buds we'd counted on so much. (They would have bloomed for Christmas and set all the house aglow.) And so, of course, we spanked his hands and sent him off to bed. With angry looks and scoldings (we so much misunderstood) But when we saw him lying there asleep, tear-stained and red, We loved him just as achingly as if he had been good.

He seized upon the mixing bowl when his mother's back was turned. And poured out on the kitchen floor what was to be dessert. He stood wide-eyed and wondering while words about him burned. And then we spanked his hands again, yes truly, till it hurt. We sobbed him in the corner till he sobbed his heart in two. (One twisting sticky finger tugging at his curly head.) And then we asked him sternly—very sternly—if he knew

The reason. "Why for helping mudder do her work," he said. Oh, but he's bad, so very bad he keeps us in a treet! He climbs on chairs to get at things and makes a lot of fuss.

He breaks a law a minute—sometimes two or three—and yet. When we look at him sleeping something stabs the heart of us.

He is so close to fairyland he cannot help but stray. Mistled by elfin fancies, though with high romantic aim. De feel as may our Father of our greater sins, and say: "Strange visions may mislead him...but we love him, all the same."

THE TINYMITES

STORY BY HAL COCHRAN—PICTURES BY KING

The monkeys hopped around with ease among the branches of the trees and chattered at the Tinies who sat watching them in glee.

Said Scouty, "Gee, they are a treat. They're very nimble on their feet. I wish that I could climb that way. It would be fun for me."

"That's not a bad idea, lad," cried Windy. "I have often had to do a bit of quick work when I've been up in my plane."

"I'm going to try and swing around and yet stay safely off the ground. If I can keep from falling, my attempt won't be in vain."

"Why, all around you can see that vines are hanging from each tree. I understand they're good and strong. Come on, who's game to swing?"

"I'll be the first to take a chance." He grabbed a hold of one long branch and then swung out so quickly that it made the breezes sing.

When he swung back he hooked his feet right by the bunch. "Say! That was neat," said Copy.

"Now I'll try my luck. I'm just as good as you."

It wasn't very long until they all were having quite a thrill. Just sailing out from tree to tree. It wasn't hard to do.

One of the monkeys then came near and chattered in Scouty's ear. And then it scrambled to the ground and Scouty shouted, "Come!"

"We'll follow this monkey in a race. I'm sure he'll take us to some place where we have never been before. You'll find he's not so dumb!"

And, sure enough, the monkey led them to a spot where Scouty said, "Gee, look! This is a gateway and it leads to Monkey Land!"

"I guess we are supposed to go inside. The monkey seems to know that we all seek excitement. Come, we'll enter hand in hand."

Huntington Beach Awards Oil Drilling Lease

CITY WILL GET HUGE REVENUE FROM CONCERN

HUNTINGTON BEACH, Aug. 13.—The city council in session here yesterday afternoon leased to the Carr Oil company of Los Angeles, a strip paralleling the paved portion of Ocean avenue from the intersection of Twenty-third street to the west city limits toward Sunset Beach. The strip is about 6000 feet long and borders the Pacific Electric railway right-of-way the entire distance.

Leasing the area was made after the council had considered and discussed in conference three leases, one from the West American Petroleum company, Long Beach; one from Graham and Loftus, Long Beach and the one from the Carr Oil company. The final vote was three to two for the Carr Oil company.

Councilman John H. Marion moved the adoption of the lease offered by the West American Oil company. The motion failed of a second and the mayor declared it lost. Councilman E. B. Stevens then said he wanted to second the motion and moved for a reconsideration of the lease. His motion carried unanimously. Councilman Marion then again moved the adoption of the resolution granting the lease to the Carr Oil company and it was seconded by Stevens. When put to a vote it lost, Marion and Stevens voting for it.

The Carr Oil company lease which runs for 30 years, was then read and a resolution for its adoption was moved by Councilman Huston and seconded by Councilman King and Huston and Mayor Conrad voting for it.

The proposed lease offered by Graham and Loftus was not taken up. This lease proposed a one-sixth royalty. The lease from West American Oil company provided for 15 per cent royalty and $50,000 bonus out of oil. The lease from the Carr Oil company provided for one-sixth royalty, $30,000 cash bonus and $30,000 out of oil. It also provides for 15 wells.

The equipment at the well must be removed after each well is drilled and a concrete excavation made into which the necessary equipment for operating the well will be placed. This excavation must be covered over on a level with the street with the same surfacing as the rest of the street so that there will be no interference with the use of the area for street purposes if it ever should be needed. Man holes will be provided for entrance and egress into the excavation.

The company will use portable derricks to be moved away as soon as each well is completed. The company estimates in the lease that probably about 60 days will be required for completing the well and placing the equipment beneath the street surface. The lease will insure immediate drilling operations as soon as title to the property is established by a court decision.

The company provides a $100,000 surety bond to protect the city against all damage suits or claims of any character and agrees to defend title at all times at its own expense.

Home labor will be provided for the work and it is expected Standard Oil will offset any wells drilled, insuring considerable drilling and providing many days labor for oil workers.

Last Monday at the regular council meeting the city clerk read a letter from the office of Lawyer and Bacon, attorneys for the Standard Oil company, and the Huntington Beach company, notifying the city that they will resist any action by the city to lease the strip of land under question.

The Huntington Beach company, now a subsidiary of the Standard Oil company, was the donor of this strip to the city for street purposes, but as there was no reversion clause in the deed this measure will go to the court for a quiet-title suit, it has been stated.

VISITORS ARE PART OF GUESTS AT CITY PARK

The boys and fathers who attended last night's session of the "Friday Fun club" at the Y. M. C. A. enjoyed one of the most interesting sessions of the summer in that popular feature of the Y work.

Dr. Edward Lee Russell, of the county health department, talked to the boys on the health problems of youth, and illustrated his talk by graphic demonstrations on some of the boys themselves. The boys were shown what may happen to them if they permit themselves to get into bad habits.

Physical Director R. R. Russick told the boys about the Olympic Games, describing some of the finer points involved, and discussing the remarkably fine work that has been done in the gymnastic and swimming contests. Then he supervised the whole crowd for a busy half hour in the Y swimming pool, where the boys put on their own exhibitions of fancy diving and swimming.

These Friday evening sessions will continue until time for school to open, according to D. H. Tibbals, boys' director, who has the programs in charge. All boys of the Y and their fathers are invited every Friday evening at 7:30 o'clock.

NEW YORK STOCKS

NEW YORK, Aug. 13.—(UP)—The stock market today plunged down to 5 points in another burst of selling, steadied as dealers became more moderately and rallied on short covering to close irregular.

Sales were about a million shares today, Saturday when volume exceeded 2,000,000 shares.

Rumors were circulated in the Street that bear operations of the last few days were coming under closer scrutiny by the exchange, but these could not be verified. The reports may have been responsible for the late covering, which also was stimulated by sturdy resistance of the list to pressure of offerings.

Grains were steadier than yesterday. Wheat reacted fractionally and then came back from the lows. Corn made steady gains. Cotton futures ruled steady. Silver turned dull with prices down 5 to 10 points in the future.

Bonds held well for a time, but later fell 1 to 2 points, low coupon U. S. Treasury issues dropping sharply. Senior securities were held, with a few near 90c, while stock from near 90c. District sales at slightly lower figures.

Best local cannibal cabbage was 25-30c a crate for the best, with poorer at 15-20c. Cauliflowers were 25-30c a crate for the larger sizes of Hales Best and Tip-top, with a few at 30c. Cauliflowers were 25-30c a crate for the larger sizes of Hales Best and Tip-top, with a few at 30c.
